President Wilson's administration faced its first real test at Washington last Friday when Congress had under consideration a measure to repeal the law permitting coastwise vessels carrying American goods to pass through Panama canal free of toll. The Democratic Administration considered this repeal necessary and seem to stake all upon having the present law repealed. The debate incidental to the Administration's policy is said to be the most bitter had in Washington in many years and it is indeed gratifying to Democrats everywhere who are in sympathy with the success of President Wilson and the party that the President will be successful in having his plans carried out.

It is generally conceded that the coastwise shipping industry is owned and controlled by a Trust and that there is no competition in shipping rates. While it is alleged that these are American vessels seeking to go through the canal free of toll it is equally true that the American people now shall have but little interest in this industry. The people as a whole of the United States have contributed to the building of the canal and we see no good reason why a subsidy should be granted by the Government to aid a shipping industry by permitting free tolls through the people's national waterway. The maintaining of the Panama Canal will entail a great expense upon the Government and all ships passing through the canal ought to be required to pay toll and thus sufficient funds be collected to meet this expense.

The Democratic Party has always opposed ship subsidy and free tolls through the Canal can be nothing more than a violation of one of the fundamental principles long recognized by our party, which we think furnishes the President a reason equally as good for his position as that free tolls to American vessels is in violation of a contract made with England when this Canal was built. Those few Democrats who went back on the administration at this crisis of the party will receive little comfort from their constituents at home.

It is conceded that Speaker Champ Clark made the greatest speech ever heard from him in his twenty-two years in congress in defending his position against the repeal of the free toll measure. The President was complimented and the administration praised unstintingly in his eloquent appeal which was received with great enthusiasm by his colleagues of all parties. The speaker is complimented upon the tactful speech made at a time when the party was in great peril and it is thought that his speech will aid in keeping the party united.

Mrs. James B. Collier In Serious Condition.

The many friends of Mrs. James B. Collier will regret to learn of her serious illness. Mrs. Collier has been ill for some time, and it was intended to bring her to Lancaster, she was expected to arrive here today, however her condition was such as to prevent and the time of her arrival is not known. Mrs. Collier has been at the home of her son at Fork Ridge Tenn.

Free Toll Law To Be Repealed

Although every step for its consideration was attended with great excitement and with the leaders of all parties divided at Washington, it is now conceded that the Simms Bill will pass both Houses at Washington and that the Administration's Policy will be successful. There has been a good deal of feeling among leaders of the Democratic Party and the debate in Lower House was very bitter at time. Speaker Clark, it is alleged, still feeling keenly his defeat by the President for the nomination has taken this opportunity to get even with his successful opponent and has thereby taken a decided stand against the leader of his party. He was very severely criticized upon the floor of the House by leaders of the Administration. It is gratifying to Democrats of Kentucky that the President will have the solid delegation of Kentucky backing the party at this crisis with the exception of the Hon. Harvey Helm, who joined the recalcitrant Democrats when his assistance was needed most to uphold his party in an hour of peril. But the Administration will be successful, notwithstanding the desertion of a number of Democrats who were expected to stand with the party at a time of such a crisis.

Mr. John N. Ross sold the handsome jack, Boyd Wagers, to Mr. Charlie Creech, for $450.00. This jack was purchased at the Cotton sale by Mr. Ross and besides being royally bred is the sire of some splendid colts in that section. The price is considered cheap.

Dr. Wheeler Ill.

Dr. William A. Wheeler of the dental firm of Denny and Wheeler is confined to his room at the home of Mrs. Isaac Hamilton on Water street. It was at first thought that he was suffering with typhoid fever, but this proved not to be the case, and it is hoped that he will be able to be out soon. A trained nurse is at his bedside.

Drs. Elliott of this place and Jackson of Danville operated on Mr. William Ray at his home on the Richmond pike on last Saturday for appendicitis, and he is now in a critical condition with scant hopes entertained for his recovery. He had not been complaining and had been about his farm duties up to the time he was stricken.

Mr. Ray served one term as Garrard county's representative in the Kentucky Legislature. He is a splendid citizen and clever gentleman, and his many friends are hoping that his condition may take a turn for the better and that he may make a rapid recovery.

He is survived by his wife, who is a sister of the late Walton Eason, by two brothers who reside in the Crab Orchard section of Lincoln county and by two sisters, one of whom lives in Arkansas and the other in Oklahoma. Mr. Payne never had any children. He was a lifelong and consistent member of the Baptist church and a highly respected citizen. Mr. Payne served throughout the Civil war, espousing the cause of the Union. He was well known throughout the county and held the respect and esteem of all who knew him.

Eighth District Christian Endeavor Convention Held In Lancaster A Great Success.

The annual Convention of the Eighth District Christian Endeavor was held in Lancaster, beginning Friday evening March 27th and ending Sunday evening March 30th. All of the exercises were held at the Christian church with the exception of Sunday evening, when they were held in the Chapel of the Graded School. The Convention, was one of the most successful ever held, and the visitors aside from being delighted with the success of the meeting were loud in their praise of the hospitality of the Lancaster people.

Prof. R. H. Crossfield of Lexington, Dr. B. H. Roberts of Berea and Rev. H. L. Calhoun of Lexington were among the distinguished visitors from a distance who addressed the various sessions during the meeting, while the officers of the society and the local clergy made interesting talks from time to time. The musical programme rendered by Misses Florence Johnson, Mamie Stormes Dunn, Martha Tindler, Ruth Carrier and Bernice Champ and Messrs Allen Johnson and Bradley Bourne, not only added materially to the interest of the various meetings, but thoroughly demonstrated the talent and splendid musical training of these young people.

247 To 161 Tolls Repeal Bill Passes House By Above Figures And President Is Sustained.

On last Tuesday night after one of the most bitter struggles ever waged in the National House of Representatives, that body voted to repeal the provisions of the Panama Canal Act exempting American Vessels from the payment of tolls, by a vote of 247 to 161 thereby sustaining President Wilson in his contention for what he termed "the nations honor". The result, while a victory, was but the beginning of victory for the administration, for the measure will now go to the Senate, and it will be attacked today pending its passage before that body with as much vigor as marked its turbulent journey through the House.

With Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood championing the opposition and putting up such a fight as these two mighty leaders are able to give, the battle waxed warm indeed, and the victory for the administration was all the greater for the stubborn opposition. On the final vote 220 Democrats sustained the President in his contention, and they were joined by 25 Republicans and 2 Progressives; 52 Democrats followed Speaker Clark to ignominious defeat in championing what he held was the mistaken policy of the President that toll exemption for American vessels was a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain.

The Kentucky delegation voted as follows; for the repeal of the measure Messrs Barkley, Cantrell, Fields, Johnson, Rouse, Shirley, Stanley, Thomas while Messrs Helm, Powers and Langley voted against it.

When the news of the success of the measure was brought to the President he was at the dinner table, and while exhibiting marked gratification, he declined to comment.

"JOSEPH AND HIS BRETHREN"*At Lexington Opera House.

By far the biggest thing which comes to Lexington will be the splendid pageant drama, "Joseph and His Brethren" at the Lexington Opera House for three nights April 13, 14 and 15th, with matinee Wednesday 15th.

This marvelous production is the third and greatest of the Colossal Liebler Co., spectacles from the Century Theatre, New York, the companion play to "The Garden of Allah" and "The Daughter of Heaven."

"Joseph and His Brethren" is universally conceded to be the most magnificent theatrical show yet given in America. In London it is now being done by an English company headed by Sir Beerbohm Tree and Miss Maxine Elliott, but next week Lexington gets the original New York production with its world of scenery and effects and the same superb cast of principals which played the piece there all last winter. There are four acts, eleven massive scenes, and a small army of two hundred and fifty people concerned in the play. Brandon Tynan plays Joseph; that sterling stage veteran, James O'Neill, Jacob; and the most beautiful woman on the American stage, Pauline Frederick, the role of Potiphar's wife. Other notable actors in the cast are W. T. Carleton, Henry Harmon, Charles D. Herman, Rosina Henley, dramatist E. E. Rose's clever daughter, Ruth Rose, and five score more of the favorites who delighted New York audiences for six months.

The story is told in the sonorous classical English of the Bible itself. The author is Louis N. Parker, the most famous playwright of the present day, who has given the contemporary stage John Drew's "Rosemary", "George Arliss' "Disraeli", "Pomander Walk", "Drake" etc.

The scenery is beyond all description. So massive beautiful and intricate is it that a force of one hundred men are necessary for its handling. There are herds of camels, oxen, asses, goats, horses, and sheep. There is a ballet corps of twenty-four dancers in the wonderful palace scene in Pharaoh's court. In a word, Joseph and His Brethren is the last word in modern stagecraft and spectacular drama. During its engagement here the evening performances will begin at 8 o'clock sharp and the matinees at 2 p. m. Seats may be ordered by mail if remittance is enclosed together with a self addressed stamped envelope. Prices 50-75-$1.00, $1.50 and $2.00.

SENATOR CHARLES F. MONTGOMERY.

We know of no young man that has arisen so rapidly in public favor as Senator Charles F. Montgomery of Liberty who represented the Counties of Garrard, Lincoln, Boyle and Casey in the upper House during the General Assembly. While he was not at all times with the majority of his associates in the Senate the positions he took that brought him into disagreement, added to his popularity with his constituents. In fact to be popular with the people it was necessary for members of the last Legislature to be in the minority. Senator Montgomery was one of the most active members of the Senate against the Glenn Insurance

Bill, against the passage of which the people of his district were almost unanimous. He used his best efforts for the enactment of the Anti-pass Bill. Although Senator Montgomery possesses very decided views upon public questions he was polite and considerate of the opinion of others, which made him one of the most popular and influential representatives in Frankfort. The reputation he made by the firm stand at all times at Frankfort on behalf of the people's interest with his personal popularity, makes Senator Montgomery one of the most promising young democrats in this section of Kentucky, and we predict for him a bright future.

Mr. Arnold left Lancaster seven years ago and since that time has been in New York City, where he has been a secret service man. The greater part of the time he has been stationed in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where his attention was given to the security of the guests and their belongings.—"Rich" in Advocate.

The above article refers to Bruce Arnold who was born and raised near Lancaster. He is a son of the late George T. Arnold, a brother of Mrs. W. H. Ward and Mrs. Webb Raney and a nephew of Mr. H. T. Logan, and has many friends and relatives in Lancaster who hope he may succeed in landing the position he is seeking.
